Best practice in the field

Pro Operator 2019 – rates, sizes and formats

- Pro Operator is the official NRoSO magazine sent to all members of the National Register of Sprayer Operators
- Unrivalled circulation – Pro Operator is received by all 21,600 + NRoSO members
- Readers are key influencers – sprayer operators, farmers, contractors and managers
- The only magazine targeted to reach this important audience, now with its own website eioperator.com
- Authoritative editorial promotes best practice and helps operators to improve application efficacy, efficiency, safety and environmental protection
- Pro Operator is published three times a year – in January, May and September – ahead of the important shows, events and application seasons.

Terms and Conditions:

By placing an advertising order, the client or their agent agrees to the following conditions:

Prices agreed are subject to the terms specified in the confirmation order whereby discounts are conditional upon number of insertions and cross-media advertising. If an order cannot be fulfilled as agreed and for reasons which MWR Media Ltd is not responsible, the client or their agent must refund the discount.

To supply material by the due date specified at the time of booking. Failure to do so could result in the order not being fulfilled. In this event, the client or their agent will still be liable for the agreed sum and will be invoiced accordingly.

Invoices will be issued on date of publication and are payable within 30 days.

Failure to pay by the invoice due date will result in the client or their agent being invoiced for ALL the discounts previously applied which are conditional on prompt payment. Invoices which remain outstanding after 30 days will also be liable to a late payment charge of 10% of the value of the invoice (net) applied weekly until the account is paid in full.

We reserve the right to refuse an advert due to contravention of UK law, regulations, content, technical specifications or unsuitability. This decision is entirely at the discretion of the Publisher.

We do not accept advertising that purports to be editorial and as such, any artwork that does so, will be refused at the discretion of the Publisher.

Should the advertisement be published in a way that is detrimental to the client and is the fault of the Publisher, MWR Media Ltd will offer to either re-insert the advert or refund the client.

The placing of an advertising order by the client or their agent, constitutes an acknowledgement of the Publisher's Terms of Business.

Whilst we will make every effort to fulfil the advertising order, in the event of force majeure, the Publisher is released from all obligations to fulfil the order and will not be liable to pay compensation for damages.

Additional information:

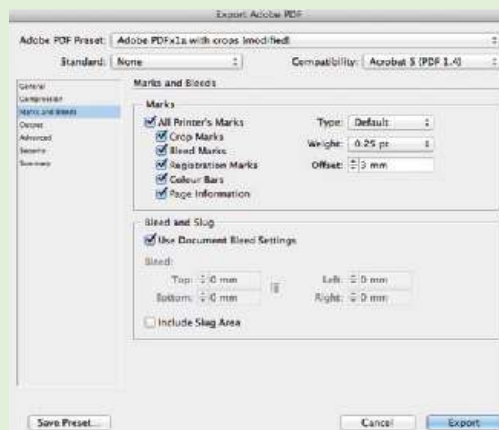

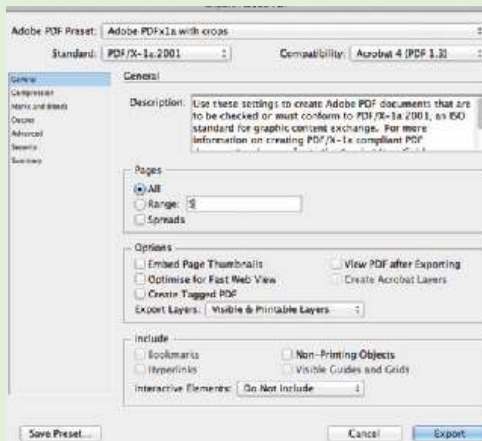

Converting an InDesign file to a print-ready PDF:

NOTE: Be sure to change the compatibility to Acrobat 5 (PDF 1.4) rather than the default PDF 1.3, as this seems to resolve any potential transparency issues.

Step 2: Next, select 'Marks and Bleeds' from the sidebar and turn all of them on (they will all be off by default). Other settings to bear in mind are whether to set your documents as spreads or single pages. Other options to consider are those found in the 'Include' section, which allow Bookmarks, Hyperlinks, Non-Printing Objects, and Visible Guides and Grids to be added if required. Generally, you won't use the Include settings for print-only PDFs

Step 3: Finally, click 'Export'. If there are any issues with links or fonts within the file they will be flagged up at this stage.

NOTE: If it is a large file, you may wish to open the 'Background Task' palette to view your PDF's progress. You won't be able to close the file until the PDF's produced.

Agency discount:

Applying an agency discount is at the discretion of MWR Media Ltd and cannot be added after the price has been agreed. All agencies must note that the price discussed and agreed with them, will include a discretionary discount of up to 10%. Any agency subsequently applying a discount after the price has been agreed, will be in contravention of our terms of business.
